IMPORTANT LICENSE INFORMATION

Dear Customer,

Your use of this product is subject to terms included with this document.

The hardware you have purchased includes a software license for the above mentioned software product.

This product does not include support for the License Management Facility. Therefore, a Product Authorization Key is not required for use of this product, or for proof of license.

Your invoice will serve as proof of license for this hardware product and its associated software per license number listed above. You should keep the invoice and this document as valuable proof of purchase for your software license. This document in itself does not constitute a software license.

The above mentioned software license is subject to Digital's Standard Terms and Conditions.

The software may be installed on a processor or equipment configuration specified in the associated Software Product Description and can only be executed on the hardware purchased with this license.

Thank you for choosing Digital.
